The Consorzio Tutela Vini d'Abruzzo is not a public law body within the meaning of Article 2 paragraph 1, point 4, of Directive 2014/24/EU and, therefore, as indicated in the above-mentioned legislation, it is required to apply the national rules transposing the European Directives on public procurement (in Italy, Legislative Decree 36/2023), only where compatible, solely to ensure compliance with the principles of transparency, publicity, non-discrimination and equal treatment required by the EU Regulation, as well as the conditions set out in the aforementioned Guidelines and decisions of the European Commission and the Ministry of Agriculture, Food Sovereignty and Forestry.

Legislative Decree 36/2023 and the guarantees provided therein are in fact referred to by analogy as an expression of the principles of maximum participation and proportionality. The Consortium must select the implementing bodies through an open and competitive tendering procedure. Legislative Decree 36/2023 will be referred to for all procedural aspects necessary to ensure the above-mentioned principles.

The competitive procedure will in any case ensure compliance with the principles of non-discrimination, equal treatment, transparency, publicity, proportionality, clarity and consistency of the selection and award criteria provided for with the purposes of the services requested and their value, best value for money and absence of conflicts of interest.

This procedure does not provide for division into lots, as it is more efficient and effective for the performance of the service to identify a single implementing body that can carry out all the activities provided for in the programme in question.

In fact, the work packages and related activities are closely interlinked and must be carried out in a logical and functional sequence that can only be optimised by having a single implementing body, which must ensure the coordination and integration of the working group and the various professionals necessary and involved in the provision of the service.

See the section entitled “General project strategy” for further details.

General objective (GO):

The project, funded under the AGRIP – MULTI – 2025 – IM – ORGANIC topic, aims to increase awareness and recognition of the European Union's quality system for organic production. According to Special Eurobarometer 520, 61% of European consumers recognise the EU organic farming logo, highlighting that there is still significant room for improvement.

The BIOWINES information and promotion programme therefore focuses on organic wine production methods, which are considered a strategic lever for the internal market as they guarantee consumers high standards of sustainability, quality and transparency in production processes, as well as significant environmental benefits and concrete added value for certified products. In line with this framework and the priorities of the reference topic, the BIOWINES project breaks down its general objective into a series of specific, measurable and operational objectives, as outlined below.

Specific objectives (SO):

The BIOWINES Project focuses on achieving the following Specific Objectives:

- Increase the level of recognition of the European Union organic logo (Euro-leaf): measurably increase the ability of target audiences to correctly recognise the European organic logo, improving its visibility, familiarity and immediate association with the values of quality, sustainability, traceability and regulatory compliance in the Italian, German and French markets.
- Increase awareness of the meaning and informative value of the EU organic logo: Strengthen understanding of the informative content of the Euro-leaf logo, clarifying in a simple and credible way the production requirements, controls, traceability guarantees and differences compared to other unregulated environmental certifications or claims, in order to reduce confusion, scepticism and misperceptions about organic products.
- Increase and sustain the growth in sales and exports of certified organic wines in target markets: Promote a structural increase in demand and market penetration for the organic wines covered by the project in the Italian, German and French markets by strengthening commercial relations, improving product positioning in distribution channels and increasing market confidence in European certified quality.

The EXPECTED FINAL IMPACT is to increase awareness of the European quality system (Organic Logo – EURO LEAF), strengthen the competitiveness of organic products, increase their visibility and market share, and achieve stable growth in consumption.

General project strategy:

The customisation of the strategy as per the approved programme is shown below:

Target market: ITALY

The strategy for the Italian market is aimed at strengthening knowledge and correct interpretation of the European Union organic logo, in a context where only 53% of consumers say they recognise the Euro-leaf logo, compared to a European average of 61% (Eurobarometer¹). There also remains significant confusion in reading labels and limited awareness of control and certification systems. The approach integrates B2B and B2C actions, with a strong focus on distributors and caterers as multipliers of information to the end consumer, supported by digital activities aimed at young adult consumers. The strategy aims to promote the territorial origin, certified quality and traceability of Italian organic wines, stimulating an informed increase in demand and confidence in the European certification system.

Specific message:

- o European organic products as a certified guarantee of quality, transparency and protection of the territory, capable of promoting Italian production and distinguishing itself from unregulated environmental claims.

Elements to be promoted on the market are:

- o Origin and territoriality of appellations.
- o Food safety and EU traceability.
- o Wine-making tradition and biodiversity.
- o Reliability of controls and certifications.

The communication style should therefore be warm and evocative.

Target groups:

- Consumers – primary target. Young adults (aged 20–40), 'organic curious' and health-conscious families.
- Trade professionals – secondary target. The aim is to ensure an adequate response to consumer demand (which will be particularly sensitised by the B2C campaign). In particular, the identified professional targets are:
 - Large-scale distribution buyers;
 - Catering/specialised shops.

Promotional activities in Italy:

- o Public relations and press office activities - Production and distribution of information materials on the Euro-Leaf logo;
- o Digital information and education campaigns;
- o Presence at trade fairs and events (e.g. Vinitaly).
- o Masterclasses and tastings for operators.

For further details, see paragraph 5 of these specifications, which provides more details and information on the activities.

Target market: GERMANY

The strategy for the German market aims to consolidate and improve awareness of the European Union's organic logo (Eurobarometer²) in a context where 63% of consumers say they recognise the Euro-leaf logo, a figure higher than the Italian average but still with room for improvement in terms of understanding and trust. The market is highly sensitive to sustainability issues, but this is accompanied by growing critical attention to green claims and demands for greater transparency throughout the supply chain. The approach integrates B2B and B2C actions, with a strong focus on importers, distributors and buyers as the main drivers of commercial positioning, supported by digital and communication activities aimed at end consumers. The strategy aims to strengthen the credibility of the European certification system, enhancing traceability, quality and reliability of controls, in order to support the structural growth of demand for European organic wines.

Specific message:

- o The EU organic logo as a reliable and verifiable reference to guarantee quality, sustainability and traceability throughout the supply chain

Elements to be promoted on the market are:

- o Strict certification and European standards.
- o Transparency of controls.
- o Organoleptic quality of European wines.
- o Consistence with environmental and ethical values.

The communication style should therefore be informative and authoritative.

Target groups:

- o Conscious organic consumers who are attentive to sustainability.
- o Trade operators/professionals: they play a fundamental role as 'ambassadors' for quality agri-food production:
 - Importers, distributors and specialised buyers
 - journalists and influencers

Promotional activities in Germany:

- o PR and press office activities
- o Training activities for operators.
- o Digital campaigns and influencer marketing.
- o Participation in international trade fairs (e.g. Prowein).
- o PR events and B2B meetings in major cities.

For further details, see paragraph 5 of these specifications, which provides more details and information on the activities.

² Source: Special 556 (Europeans, agriculture and the CAP – January 2025)

Target market: FRANCE

The strategy for the French market is aimed at strengthening the visibility and recognition of the European Union organic logo in a context where 63% of consumers say they are familiar with it (Eurobarometer³), but where the national logo enjoys greater recognition and trust. The market shows a growing need for clarity of information and differentiation between official certifications and unregulated environmental claims, in the face of a progressive saturation of labels. The approach integrates B2B and B2C actions, with a central role assigned to industry professionals, the media and opinion leaders as vectors of credibility towards the end consumer, supported by digital and relational activities. The strategy aims to enhance the authenticity of the territory, the sensory quality and the solidity of European certification, strengthening confidence in organic products and supporting qualified growth in demand.

Specific message:

- o European organic products as a synthesis of pleasure, territorial authenticity and environmental responsibility, overcoming the perception of organic products as a simple marketing lever.

Elements to be promoted on the market are:

- o Terroir identity and sensory quality.
- o Cultural and gastronomic value of wine.
- o Credibility of EU certification.
- o Sustainability and environmental protection.

The communication style must therefore be transparent and essential.

Target groups:

- o Trade operators/professionals – primary target. They play a fundamental role as 'ambassadors' for quality agri-food production in their areas of activity. In particular, the professional targets identified are:
 - Premium importers and distributors;
 - Specialised shops;
 - Restaurateurs
- o Conscious consumers who care about sustainability

Promotional activities in France:

- o Public relations and press office activities;
- o Local storytelling activities.
- o Collaborations with influencers and specialised media
- o PR events in conjunction with relevant trade fairs (e.g. Wine Paris).
- o Guided tastings and masterclasses.

For further details, see paragraph 5 of these specifications, which provides more details and information on the activities.

³ Special 556 (Europeans, agriculture and the CAP – January 2025)

As per the approved programme, the main EU message and the secondary message are summarised in the project slogan:

EU-thentic Organic Wines.

- EU-thentic' combines EU + Authentic, communicating that European organic wine is:
 - authentic,
 - certified,
 - guaranteed by the European Union,
 - distinct from pseudo-claims ('natural', 'green', etc.).

The claim conveys the idea that true authenticity in organic products comes from European certification (Euro-leaf) and not from informal or unregulated labels.

The claim approved in the project proposal is accompanied by the following main messages:

- "Look for the Euro-leaf, organic is unique!"
This message aims to strengthen the recognition of the European Union organic logo as the only official and reliable reference for identifying certified organic products , clearly distinguishing them from unregulated claims and pseudo-labels, as well as to combat the confusion of information on the market.
- "If you drink organic, there is more taste!"
Claim aimed at enhancing the sensory quality and organoleptic characteristics of organic wines, highlighting their authenticity, aromatic complexity and overall quality.
- "Drink organic, choose the future."
A message aimed at communicating the environmental and social benefits of organic production, such as the protection of biodiversity, the reduction of environmental impact and the contribution to the European Union's sustainability objectives.
- "Drink organic, drink BOLD!"
Claim aimed at strengthening the emotional and aspirational dimension of organic consumption, promoting it as a contemporary, positive, dynamic and attractive choice, capable of combining environmental responsibility and consumer pleasure.

7. AWARD CRITERIA and SELECTION COMMITTEE

The Selection Committee is appointed after the deadline for the submission of tenders and is composed of a maximum of 5 members, who are experts in the specific sector to which the contract relates.

The Selection Committee is responsible for evaluating the technical and financial bids of the competitors. The RUP avails itself of the assistance of the Selection Committee for the purpose of verifying the documentation produced and the anomaly of the bids.

The Implementing Body will be selected on the basis of the most economically advantageous tender identified on the basis of the best quality/price ratio.

This criterion is applied to the selection procedure in accordance with Article 108 of Legislative Decree 36/2023, considered best practice for the evaluation of complex services such as promotion and communication, ensuring the selection of the bid that offers the best balance between technical performance and price.

Overall score

The maximum total score is 100 points, broken down as follows:

- Technical Offer (Quality): maximum 85 points
- Economic Offer (Price): maximum 15 points

The Selection Committee will evaluate the qualitative elements on the basis of the evaluation criteria indicated in the table below.

7.1. Evaluation and quality of the technical offer

The Technical Offer must meet the minimum requirements described in these technical specifications and must be formulated in such a way as to provide all the elements necessary for a complete and thorough evaluation of the content and quality of the proposed service, which must be concise, concrete and feasible.

A maximum technical score of 85 points will be awarded on the basis of the clarity, logic and methodological rigour of the presentation, conciseness, completeness and consistency with the requirements of the tender documents, in accordance with the following criteria and sub-criteria as indicated in the table below.

TECHNICAL OFFER: MAXIMUM 85 POINTS

		Maximum 45
Maximum score Technical offer		85

To determine the scores obtained for the technical offer in relation to the respective criteria and sub-criteria indicated above, each tender committee member will use a discretionary scoring method, applying a coefficient (to be multiplied by the maximum score attributable in relation to the criterion) ranging from 0 to 1. Therefore, each commissioner will assign a score to each bid according to the following grid:

not applicable	0
insignificant assessment	0.1
barely sufficient assessment	0.2
sufficient assessment	0.3
rating between satisfactory/fair	0.4
fair rating	0.5
rating between fair/good	0.6

good rating	0.7
rating between good/excellent	0.8
excellent rating	0.9
excellent rating	1.0

For each sub-criterion, once each member of the selection board has assigned a coefficient to each competitor, the average of the coefficients assigned by the selection board will be calculated, with a value of 1 assigned to the highest coefficient among the bidders and all other coefficients being re-parameterised accordingly.

7.2. Evaluation of the financial offer

The financial offer must be structured in such a way as to allow the various elements indicated in the following table to be evaluated.

FINANCIAL OFFER: MAXIMUM 15 POINTS
Evaluation element	Motivational criterion	Maximum score
FINANCIAL OFFER Max 15 points	Economic analysis: Analysis of the cost-effectiveness of the proposed initiatives, according to market prices	Up to 6 points
	Fee: Assessment of the appropriateness of the fee (expressed in man-days) requested by the economic operator submitting the tender for the implementation of each action, based on the cost of each action and the expected benefits	Up to 9 points
Maximum score		15

With regard to the financial offer for the activities (maximum of 6 points out of 100), the score will be awarded on the basis of the following formula:

$$\text{score for 'financial offer for the activities' considered} = \frac{\text{Offer X}}{\text{Maximum bid}} \times 6$$ where:

- Maximum bid: this is the highest financial bid for the activities (SUBTOTAL ACTIVITIES) among those submitted;
- Offer X: this is the financial offer for the activities (SUBTOTAL ACTIVITIES) of the economic operator in question.

With regard to the financial offer for the fee of the participating economic operator (maximum of 9 points out of 100), the score will be awarded on the basis of the following formula:

$$\text{score for the financial offer for the fee of the economic operator in question} = \frac{\text{Minimum fee \%}}{\text{Fee \% X}} \times 9$$

Fee % X

where:

- Minimum fee %: is the percentage of the fee relating to the lowest financial offer for the fee of the participating economic operator among those submitted;
- Fee % X: is the percentage of the fee relating to the economic offer for the fee of the economic operator in question.

For the purposes of awarding and calculating scores, any non-integer values will be rounded to two decimal places.

Increased bids are not permitted.

The ENVELOPE/PEC C relating to the financial offer will be opened at the end of the evaluation work carried out by the aforementioned Selection Committee.

A ranking will be drawn up based on the scores awarded to the bids.

The contract will be awarded to the competitor who has submitted a bid that, in addition to meeting all the minimum mandatory requirements, has achieved the highest overall score (technical bid score + financial bid score).

In the event of a tie, the contract will be awarded to the competitor who has obtained the highest score in the technical bid.

In the event of a tie in both the financial bid and the technical bid, a draw will be held between the aforementioned bidders.

The Consortium is not required to pay any compensation to competing companies, for any reason whatsoever, for the bids submitted.

Once the checks on the possession of the prescribed requirements have been carried out, the award will proceed.

The award shall be immediately binding on the successful bidder, while the Consortium shall only be definitively committed when, in accordance with the law, all the acts consequent and necessary for the completion of the tender have become fully effective.

If the successful bidder fails to appear for the signing of the contract or if the statements made are found to be false, the Consortium reserves the right to award the contract to the next highest bidder, after carrying out the necessary checks.

The contract will also be awarded if only one valid bid is submitted, provided that it is appropriate.

The Consortium reserves the right not to proceed with the award if no bid is deemed suitable or appropriate in relation to the subject matter of the contract.

The results will be communicated via certified email (PEC) to the participants and will be published on the website of the Consorzio Tutela Vini d'Abruzzo as the lead partner.
